Introduction

The majority of Gladioli offered in this catalogue are the Kunderd varieties. The originator of the ruffled gladiolus. These varieties contain the best there is in Gladioli vigor, variety and beauty of forms and colors.

DOROTHY McKIBBIN—the new early ruffled pink (originated by A. E. Kunderd) is one of the best forcing and garden varieties on the market today, each spike is a bouquet of itself.

I do not attempt to grow all known varieties, but specialize on a limited number of choicer kinds and of these I grow a bulb product of unsurpassed blooming power.

MY MOTTO is good measure in quality as well as in quantity.

Planting, Culture and Storage

For early flowering, plant the later part of April or as soon as the ground is ready for early garden making and all danger of freezing weather is past.

If continuation of the blooming season is desired, plant at intervals of about two weeks up until the middle or later part of June.

The ground should have a good covering of manure late in the fall preceding the planting to fallow. At the planting time only well rotted manure should be used. After planting, a high grade potato fertilizer or a top dressing of fine, well rotted manure can be used with very good results.

The ground should be plowed or spaded from ten to twelve inches deep, well pulverized and packed before planting. Do not work ground when too wet.

If after planting a crust should form before the plants get through the ground, this should be broken by using a garden rake or wheel hoe, being careful not to break the new shoots.

Cultivate often, keeping the soil loose and level and not allowing crust to form around the plants. When flower spikes begin to show do not cultivate too deep, not more than two inches.

To produce full sized bulbs for the following year, four or five leaves should be left on the plant when cutting the spikes. In extreme hot weather spikes should be cut in the morning, just as the first flowers open and left to bloom in the house.

Bulbs should be dug in the fall before they get too ripe. Cut the tops off close to the bulb, dry in the air and sunshine, then store in a cool dry cellar. Keep as near forty degrees as possible.

PLACE YOUR ORDER EARLY

It is to your advantage as well as mine to place your order as soon as you receive this catalogue.

All orders received before March 1st will be held until proper time for shipment when all danger of freezing in transit has passed, unless immediate shipment is desired in which case the bulbs will travel at purchasers' risk against frost.

A SPECIAL OFFER

I will give 10 percent off on all orders received before Feb. 15, amounting to $2.00 or more.

PLEASE NOTE

For the prices quoted I deliver bulbs transportation free to all points in the United States and Canada, kindly bear this in mind when comparing my prices with those of other growers.

Small orders are filled with as much consideration as large ones.

NO BULBLETS OR PLANTING STOCK FOR SALE THIS SEASON.
